"THE GOSPEL OF EASTER" TO BE HEARD SUNDAY

Easter Cantata of Mixed Voices Will be Given in Methodist Church April 4.

One of the special observances of Easter in Cloverport will be the Easter cantata, "The Gospel of Easter," which is to be given Sunday evening in the Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock by the members of the Protestant and Catholic choirs. This cantata is one of the most elaborate musical programs the musicians of Cloverport have given in some time. Besides the chorus of eighteen mixed voices, there will be four orchestra pieces to accompany the singers.

The cantata is being ably directed by Mr. Ira D. Behen and Miss Margaret Burn, pianist, and the singers are: Mesdames Paul Lewis, J. R. Randolph, E. A. Babbage and D. B. Phelps, Misses Ray Lewis Heyser, Selma Sippel, Susie Squires, Clara Mae Seaton, Tula Babbage, Cleona Weatherholt and Mildred D. Babbage. Messrs Ira D. Behen, W. W. Seaton, Jno. Burn, M. M. Denton, Paul Lewis, L. A. Behen, and Byron Whitehead. The accompanist are Mr. O. Bryan, violin; H. M. Behen, clarinet; E. A. Babbage, cornet and Miller Ferry, saxophone.

FRANK L. BOYD PROMOTED TO FINE POSITION IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

Owensboro, Ky., Frank L. Boyd, formerly of Owensboro, who has been for some time federal revenue agent in charge at Louisville, was summoned to Washington a few days ago, where he has been made chief of the field audit division. This is a new title for the chief of revenue agents.

Mr. Boyd will make his future headquarters at Washington and will have supervision of a large number of revenue agents in all states of the union. He and his men have been relieved of all work in enforcing the laws covering distilled spirits, and will confine themselves to auditing and checking income and excess profits tax returns.

His new position is one of the great responsibility and carries with it a considerable increase in salary.

Mr. Boyd has been in the internal revenue service more than twenty-five years and is regarded as one of the most efficient men in that branch of the federal service.

REV. WILLIAMS TO ASSIST IN NEW ERA MOVEMENT.

Rev. T. N. Williams, of Louisville, pastor of the Lucile Memorial Presbyterian church here, has been appointed assistant director for the state in the Presbyterian New Era campaign which is to be launched in Kentucky within a few days. Dr. W. A. Garfield is the state director having his headquarters in Louisville. In Dr. Garfield's absence, Rev. Williams will have charge of the office together with a corps of clerks and stenographers.

Those present were her children: Geo. Dowell, Sam Dowell, Mesdames Godfrey, Jim Bandy, Jno. Childs, Jake Sipes and Lee Smith. Messrs and Mesdames Cecil Shain, Paul Wilson, Moravia, Junious Smith and Bud Neafus were present.

PRODUCE HOUSE RECEIVES 150 DOZ. EGGS

Sugar Creek Creamery Co. Had Big Day Saturday.

The farmers flocked to the Cow Heel Grocery with eggs, chickens and cream on Saturday delivering their produce to the Sugar Creek Creamery station altogether they bought 61 gallons cream, 130 doz. eggs and 100 pounds poultry making the day a busy one.

The Sugar Creek Co., paid 66c for cream, tests going high, and farmers were well paid. Correct tests and weights along with all their courtesies are fast building up a good substantial trade with the farmers. Mr. O. Walter Holder is manager for the company and proprietor of the Cow Heel grocery where fresh stock and good, clean, quick service is guaranteed to all. He greatly appreciates all patronage. Highest market prices for cream, eggs, poultry and produce will be paid. Your money's waiting for you—Advertisement.

ESTIMATES FOR WATER-WORKS ARE DIVULGED

Mr. Gillig Sends Report to Mayor Barry and City Council. Plans to Use Amount of City Bonds and Private Subscriptions.

Mr. J. T. Gillig, of Cincinnati, O., who was invited by the City Council to make an estimate on a proposed water-works system, and fire protection to the city has made his report to the Council. Mr. Gillig knowing the amount the city can hand itself, has mapped out first a fire protection, which will go to the end of the means available Mr. Gillig suggests this as a starter, and the other parts of the town can be laid down by a popular subscription to all sections of the city.

The location of the pumping station as mapped out will be near where the old sawmill stood at the foot of 3rd cross street. The 8-inch main would pass up that street to High and thence across the creek to lower wharf and up Center street to the tower on the hill this 8-inch main would be the main artery to the tower, and the small mains can be used on the hill and less densely settled localities. Mr. Gillig's letter in full to the City Council is as follows:

Mr. Gillig's Letter
To the Mayor and Councilmen,
City of Cloverport, Kentucky.

Gentlemen: With respect to a water works system for the city of Cloverport, it is desired to report to you the conditions observed, and suggest a plan, that best fill your requirements, as it is seen.

The population of two thousand is distributed over considerable area, some of which would be difficult and expensive to serve. First attention should therefore be confined to a pumping plant, storage, and distributing system over the more closely built up business and residence section, where the fire hazard is greatest. The distributing system could then be extended as service is desired and funds available for construction work.

Any work installed at this time should be in harmony with the ultimate plan, providing for future filtration, and it is recommended that plans and specifications be prepared at the outset, if work is to be undertaken.

The scheme for the system is covered in the following points, together with the drawing which shows the character of plan.

Supply

The river appears to be the best source. It is not advisable to draw the raw water, and it is suggested that wells be sunk into the gravel deposits of the river bank. The location for the wells should preferably be up stream or above Clover Creek, though such location is not absolutely necessary and a location elsewhere would be satisfactory.

Wells

A pump well, 16 inch diameter to be sunk as shown on sketch. Such a well should afford about 500 gals. per minute (G. P. M.) The well could be sunk by jetting and for the capacity as economical as any type of well obtainable.

Pumps

A deep well turbine type of centrifugal pump to lift the water to the surface. This pump would run submerged and have a capacity of 500 G. P. M.

Connected with this pump there would be at the surface another centrifugal pump of same capacity pumping into the main.

Pumping against the heads as shown on sketch, the well pump would require about a 15 horse power motor to operate, and the pump working into a main would require a 50 horsepower motor to operate. Steam turbines, or gasoline engines could be used in lieu of motors, the cost of installing same being heavy however.

Storage

A 50,000 gal steel tank, for reserve supply to be located on the city property reserved for such purpose.

Pump Main

An 8-inch main to be installed from pump plant to storage reservoir. The location is such that this main also acts as the main service main.

Service

The scheme as outlined will afford water with a hydrant pressure in the lower part of the city of 80 to 85 lbs. A pressure greater than this is not desirable.

The hill top pressure would be from 45 to 50 lbs. This is sufficient to take care of fires such as would occur in the high part of the city.

For fire service, the plant as outlined, would deliver water to supply four standard fire streams throwing 250 G. P. M. for about 1 1/2 hours, and would then supply two such streams constantly or indefinitely thereafter.

For domestic service about 6 or 7 hours pumping daily would furnish sufficient water.

Future Growth

The pumping units recommended would serve just as well in connection with a filtration plant which may be desired in later years.

A duplicate of units as described, would afford a fire service that would keep 4 fire streams supplied indefinitely. These could be added if desired.

Mrs. Mildred Hawkins Succumbs Nine Children Survive. 21 Great Grandchildren

Mrs. Mildred Miller Hawkins, widow of Riley Hawkins passed into her eternal reward at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, March 24, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Peyton Eskridge, and Mr. Eskridge in the West End. Her death was due to chronic nephritis.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the Eskridge home conducted by Rev. Sandefur, of Evansville. The interment was in the Cloverport cemetery.

Mildred Jane Hawkins was born April 17 1840, near Cloverport. She was united in marriage to Riley Hawkins in the year 1857. This union was blessed with eleven children, five sons and six daughters. One daughter, Effie, died in infancy and another, Bettie, passed away in September 1903.

Mrs. Hawkins became a Christian early in life, and united with the New Bethel church of this county, and later became a member of the Cave Spring Baptist church where she remained a faithful member unto death. She was perfectly resigned to God's will, and often expressed her readiness to depart this life and be with Christ which is far better. She bore her suffering patiently and heroically.

Surviving are nine children: Mrs. Eliza Beavin, McQuady; Thomas N. Hawkins and George Mason Hawkins, of Mattingly; Wm. F. Hawkins, of Stanley; John L. Hawkins, of Louisville; Alfred Hawkins, of Tobinsport, Ind.; Mrs. Susan Cornelia Bland, of Leitchfield; and Mesdames Eva Hamilton and Pearl Eskridge, of Cloverport. One sister, Mrs. Susan Squires, of Cloverport, and a brother, Jefferson Miller, of Oklahoma. Forty-two grandchildren and twenty-one great-grandchildren.

The cost of tank, and pumping units are based on actual proposals from manufacturers. Other estimates are based on current prices of material and labor and are considered large enough to take care of all incidental construction costs.

IMPORTANT MEETING FARM BUREAU

On April 10. Constitution and By-Laws to be Adopted. To Elect Executive Board.

The Breckinridge County Farm Bureau, though in its infancy, is bound to be recognized as an important factor in the growth and prosperity of the county when it once becomes perfected. In unity there is strength and out of co-operation comes operation. Another meeting will be held by the Breckinridge County Farm Bureau Federation at 1 p. m., Saturday April 10th, at the Court House, Hardinsburg, Kentucky. All Farm Bureau members are urged to be present, and bring all others interested in the movement and wishing to become members of one of the greatest organizations for farmers ever organized. Constitution and by-laws for the organization will be adopted at this time and an executive board elected by the Farm Bureau members—the board to consist of a representative from each magisterial district.

Several interesting speakers will appear on the program at the meeting. Don't forget the date April 10th. Vic Pile, Pres.

OLD JAIL SHIP, "SUCCESS" PASSES HERE FOR SOUTH.

The old prison ship, Success, formerly the property of the British government, passed through Cloverport, Saturday afternoon on its way to New Orleans from Madison, Ind.

The old wooden vessel made of teke wood, was towed down the river by a steam boat, advantage being taken of the flood stage to move it.

The ship is now owned by Capt. David H. Smith, who exhibited it in Louisville two years ago.

CALIFORNIAN VISITS HIS KENTUCKY HOME FIRST TIME IN 22 YEARS.

Dr. Joe Owen, of Red Bluff, Cal., who left Breckinridge county forty years ago for the Golden West, concluded a very pleasant trip to his native home and county this week, this being his first visit in twenty-two years.

Dr. Owen visited Mrs. Hack Owen, in Glen Dean, widow of his brother, Mr. Will Owen, and arrived here Friday to see his other widowed sister-in-law, Mrs. J. T. Owen. He left Sunday evening for California. Dr. Owen is also the brother of Mrs. F. T. Heyser, of DeLand, Fla.

BENONI'S HOME. Tula C. Daniels.

Friends, it is almost house-cleaning time over here, and gardening too, isn't it? But—

Benoni's mother in Armenia can not clean house or burn the garden trash—because—there was no house or garden to clean or burn.

And another "because" was Benoni's mother had been carried off to a Turkish harem, and his little sister, Esther, just twelve, has been taken in another direction, and his father and older brother had been slain. And now hiding behind the ruins of an old chimney, clad in a grass sack, pinned together with thorns and aching all over from hunger and cold, the poor little skeleton is lying down to die alone.

He hears footsteps and thinking they are demonized, blood thirsty Turks seeking what more they can find to mutilate or destroy, he crouches down even lower and pulls the rags over his head.

But not! It is not a Turk who tenderly touches him to see what is under the rags, a good American woman lifts the poor little waif in her arms, and bears him to an American Orphanage, and begs them to try to make room for this one more.

They give him a spoonful of broth because he could not stand solid food, bathe the emaciated form, put a clean night dress on him, and in a clean cot the little fellow sobs himself to sleep. Pure gratitude brought great tears, and he longed, too, for the mother, who comforted as no orphanage can. (Shall we release her from that living death?) But America loves him now and by and by he will come forth a real trophy of what you have done for him.

Is Benoni worth saving? Are thousands like him worth saving? Try it and see!

"A need, a need known and power to meet that need" is all the "call" we should look for. On with your offering! Send at once to B. F. Beard, Treasurer, Hardinsburg Bank. "Let us bring these starving people of Armenia back from the brink of the grave and put courage in their hearts and food in their mouths."

Rev. R. H. Roe, pastor of Methodist church, South, preached a fine sermon in behalf of our "Crusade of Compassion," and took an offering, subscription rather, in behalf of their sufferers.

This Crusade has right of way in the Protestant churches of Hardinsburg.

MRS. C. W. STEWART ADDRESS-ES DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart made her first political speech at the Democratic banquet in Louisville last Thursday night. She only had about two days to prepare for that speech, as she was only notified Monday that she had been selected as the woman speaker for the occasion. It was second only to the speech of Mr. Cummings as the event of the evening, and she received as much applause as the party chairman. It was a speech worth while, full of splendid thought for campaign purposes, and filled with satire and irony for the Republican leaders.

While Mrs. Stewart was at the head of the Illiteracy Commission she refrained from the discussion of politics, showing a just sense of political propriety. Now that she is free from work she comes to the front as a great campaign orator. She was certainly a splendid representation of the intelligence and ability of her sex, and the women of Kentucky as well as the men should be justly proud of her. The Democratic party should recognize her ability by sending this gifted woman and Democrat as one of the delegates from the State-at-large to the San Francisco Convention.—Elizabethtown News.

Bred Gilts for Sale

BRED TO FARROW IN APRIL

When you can save all the pigs, these gilts are good individuals of the very best breeding that I have been able to buy at any price, and bred to a son of Black Price the 1918 Grand Champion of the world and Big Uncle Sam by Big Buster by Giant Buster, The Epoch Maker, the latter hog is the largest boar that I have ever seen for his age and I have looked over some of the very best ones. These hogs are priced right, regular breeders stuff at farmers prices that we can all afford to pay.

If you want a herd boar that will put you in the limelight, a real boar, a son of Black Price, this is breeding that you cannot find anywhere else at three times the price that I am asking for him a great pig for some one that needs him at a bargain. This pig is right for hard service about eleven months old.

GLEN DEAN

A letter from Miss Gladys Harlow was an inspiration to me. She has been at Demopolis, Ala., as a stenographer for more than a year. She sometimes drives from her home on the farm and sometimes she boards.

She speaks very highly of the Christian work there. She was president of the Black Lick W. M. S., when she left here two years ago. Miss Harlow is an unusually strong christian character. She says to many of the young people there are not devoted to the "Master's cause" as they should be that many are worldly. She says she hopes to visit her old home in Kentucky, this summer, but dreads the visit as her beloved nephew, Shell Harlow, has passed away. Her many friends long for her return.

Preston Ford will leave sometime this Spring for Colorado Springs, Col., to visit his uncle and aunt, and may make his future home there. His uncle, Allan Ford, is a railroad agent for two railroad companies, and his aunt works in the same office.

R. G. Robertson, Jr., is in Oklahoma, since attending school at Kansas City, and he is making good as a merchant. He has offered offered him now a chance to be foreman of the shops or salesman in the main auto department. He and his wife are well and happy and expect to visit here sometime during the year.

J. C. Jones spent the week-end with his brothers, J. T. and C. W. Jones.

Mrs. Willie Limer had an operation on her arm at St. Anthony's in Louisville, last week and returns this week.

Balfour Tilford, son of Mrs. May Tilford, Falls of Rough, visited his aunt, Mrs. Ernest Eskridge, recently.

Miss Jackie Powell writes her mother she hopes to come home for a visit in a short time. She is a fine business woman, another of Glen Dean's products of whom we are proud. She is in Alabama.

Mrs. Owsley, of White Mills, spent a few days last week with her daughter, Mrs. J. G. Hale.

Radiant New Raiment for Easter With the Charm of Spring in Line and Fabric

The Eton Leads Suit Fashions

—But it has formidable rivals in the many ripple effects and severely tailored models also featured here.

There's a youthful dash about them, as they are interpreted here, that never fails to captivate. Tricotines and serges are the fabrics most of them choose for their brief jackets and—almost always—accordion pleated skirts. Silk girdles, snug sleeves and braid or embroidery trimming further distinguish them.

You will want one when you see them, we are quite sure, but if you prefer a suit of another type, we are equally well prepared to serve you right.

Children's Apparel For Easter

To make adorable children look even more adorable is evidently the purpose of these Easter Coats and Frocks. They are fairy-like in fabric and line and the colors from which one may choose are many.

BECAUSE of the prestige that is ours in matters pertaining to apparel, our patrons know that the modes launched here are absolutely authentic. Our Easter collection of styles only serves to strengthen this confidence in our ability to show the newest and best first, in most gratifying variety. The Coats, Suits, Frocks and other articles of smart attire, we now present, represent the choicest interpretations of their individual modes. They are novel, different and uncommonly attractive. The woman who assembles her new wardrobe with the aid of this display is assured of getting the utmost in quality and style distinction at a moderate price.

Fashion's Favorite Coats

—Are well represented in this comprehensive assemblage of Easter modes. Here are alluring Coats in three-quarter or full length styles, as well as dozens of irresistible Coats of dashing brevity. Fabrics range from rough tweeds for utility wear to soft duvetyns and lustrous satins. Collars and cuffs of brushed wool, distended pockets, embroideries and self cordings are effectively employed as trimmings.

Those who make selection here will have the advantage of unusual variety in styling and choice of all the wanted colorings of Spring.

Frocks Offer Diversity In Styling

Trim and trig, the Frocks of tricotine and serge adopt silk braid, embroideries and oftentimes gorgeous vests as trimming. As costumes for the street they are incomparable inasmuch as they do away with the necessity of wearing outer wraps.

The Frocks for afternoon are noticeably more frivolous in development. While taffetas in billowy, bouffant effects are undeniably the most popular, Frocks of clinging tricolettes, shimmering satins and sheer georgettes are close seconds.

The wide-at-the hip silhouette prevails, but here are plenty of the bewitching straightline modes, too. Choice is offered of navy blue, brown, black and many new Spring colorings.

Stunning Millinery for Easter

Top your Easter costume with one of these chic Hats. Here you will find all the newest designs at pleasing prices.

HAS WINTER WORN YOU DOWN?

Sickness That Lingers, or Strain of Caring for Others, Makes Spring Days Dangerous.

GET BACK YOUR STRENGTH

Red Blood, Means Old-time
Vigor, and Pepto-Mangan Builds Rich, Red Blood.

Perhaps you've been ill this winter —or others in the family have, and you've worn yourself out with extra burdens. And now your strength is slow to return.

Week after week you've felt too tired for anything, and have looked it, too—color bad, eyes dull, and no enthusiasm.

When you don't feel well you are not well. Probably what you need right now is the good blood tonic, Pepto-Mangan. Physicians everywhere recommend Pepto-Mangan for run-down, anemic people. Ask your doctor about it. Pepto-Mangan supplies the things that blood-starved people lack. It puts iron and vigor in the blood. It paints the cheeks in Nature's way, and restores the hearty appetite.

The blood is naturally sluggish in the Spring and the whole family would profit by taking Pepto-Mangan, which tones up and builds up.
It is pleasant-tasting and soon makes you feel better. Your own druggist has it ready for your call, and in both liquid and tablet form, just as you prefer.

But to be certain that you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan, ask for it by the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan." Look for the name "Gude's" on the package.—Advertisement.

LABOR SHORTAGE FELT ON THE FARM

Farmers Forced to Use Their Time to Best Advantage System of Management.

Do nothing to-day which can be put off until tomorrow.

That is an apparent perversion of the ancient and excellent proverb, and most people may be inclined to look upon it as pernicious—but, properly interpreted, it is a sound principle in farm management and one that a great many farmers will particularly need to apply in the face of the shortage of labor with which this year's crops must be made. It applies to tasks that interfere with work in the fields at times when field work can be done. It does not mean procrastination.
It means getting the indirectly productive work done in advance, if possible, but if it can't be done in advance put it off till the rush work in the fields is out of the way. It is one of the important factors, say farm-management specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture, in full utilization of farm labor.

Great Need This Year.

And full utilization is likely to be more important this year than it has ever been before. Reports coming to the Department of Agriculture from all sections of the country are to the effect that farm laborers and tenants are caught by the lure of high wages and are leaving the farms for the cities. A great many farmers, apparently will be forced to carry on their operations this year with less help than they have ever had before. Unless such labor as is left on the farm is utilized to the best possible advantage, there is danger of a serious curtailment of production.

Farm-management specialists say, however, that a great deal can be accomplished toward helping production by getting the most out of the labor available. They lay down a few simple rules that they believe will help toward attaining this result.

The best farmer, they say, is the one who gets the other work out of the way and keeps the teams moving whenever the land is in condition for field work. The amount of products that a farmer can grow depends on getting the field work done when the weather will permit it. Nothing except necessary work like feeding and milking should be permitted to take men from the fields, and it should be planned where possible to get these things done and still keep the horses working ten hours a day.

Plan no wet-land work, they say, when there is work in the fields that can be done. By wet-land work is meant such things as cutting weeds and brush in the fence rows, repairing the fences, repairing buildings and a great many other necessary things —but things that can be done just as well when the ground is too wet to plow.

Leave no rainy-day work, another rule says, to be done when it is not raining for profits are limited by the amount of outdoor work that gets done. Rainy-day work is necessary work and if it is not done on rainy days it will have to be done later on fair days and will interfere with field work. It includes things that can be done under shelter, such as shelling seed corn, mending the harness, and repairing tools.

Put down in a note book, the specialists, advice, the things that will enable you to plan your work quickly when you get up some morning and find the rain pouring down. Do first the jobs that are in danger of getting in the way of the next dry weather work.

Put in long days in rush seasons with the assurance that you can ease down on rainy days or when the rush is over. And then comes that first rule, "Do nothing to-day which can as well be put off till tomorrow." There are a great many things that can be put off till tomorrow. If sowing oats is delayed until the warm, dry days of late spring, there will be a light harvest. If the corn is not cultivated even for one week after it is old enough to cultivate, the fields will be weedy and the crops poor. If the dairy cows are neglected, there will soon be no milk. This class of tasks, therefore demands immediate attention. Put off the other things to more or less remote tomorrows when the rush work is out of the way.

Then Back To The Old Proverb.

Then, when the rush work is over revert to the proverb in its original form, "Put off nothing until to-morrow which can be done today." This applies to work that may be done any time within a wide latitude, but the time comes when it can not be put off any longer and it may stop the rush work. Seed corn, for example may be tested and shelled any time after it is thoroughly cured, but if the work is neglected until the fields are ready to plant, then that most profitable work in the corn field may be delayed. That is a fair illustration of "get-it-out-of-the-way" work.

It takes more planning, more thinking, and more force of character to do this work in seasons when there is no rush work than it does to concentrate on rush work. Only by using his head can the farmer handle the "get-it-out-of-the-way" work in advance, but he must apply the rule methodically and unflinchingly if he is to get ahead very fast in spite of shortage of labor.

MAKES COTTON AND LINEN GARMENTS LAST LONGER.

Garments even of the best quality, design, and workmanship will soon become shabby through lack of care.
On the other hand, those that may have cost only half as much may be kept trim and fresh for a considerable length of time through painstaking care.

Cotton and linen garments, especially those that touch the skin or are worn in hot weather, should be carefully aired and frequently washed, because they absorb oil and perspiration from the body. If dresses, waists, and other outer garments are carefully placed on hangers as they are being aired, many wrinkles will disappear.

Sponging and pressing will in many cases freshen cotton and woolen fabrics, but too frequent pressing of partly soiled white washable garments will tend to yellow them and colored ones may be permanently discolored in this way. In any case the material should be evenly dampened, and the iron must be perfectly clean and free from rust, for a rusty iron will cause unsightly stains. Sponging with thin starch or gum arabic water will make some fabrics look like new. Success lies in having the garment evenly dampened so that no water-rings are formed or an uneven stiffness produced.

Cotton and linen suits can be pressed and laundered at home. Dust can generally be shaken from them, for they do not hold it as wool and silk do. Brushing tends to rub the dirt into cotton and linen fibers. Heavy cotton and linen suitings should be pressed on the wrong side or with a thin cloth spread over them. This makes them look more like new and prevents shine on seams and marks of the iron.

Embroidered garments should be pressed face down on an old bath towel or thick soft pad.

THE BRECKENRIDGE COUNTY FARM BUREAU.

Vic Pile, president of The Breckinridge County Farm Bureau has called a meeting of the members of this organization, and all farmers who are not members, to meet in the Court House at Hardinsburg, Saturday, April 10, at 10 o'clock p. m. This is a very important meeting the constitution and by-laws will be read and adopted, and an Executive Board, consisting of one member from each magisterial district in the county, will be elected.

Mr. Pile is taking hold of his work with a vim, like he does in his own business. He is enthusiastic in the movement and sees in it much for the farmers, as well as for every citizen in the county, whether he be a farmer, banker, merchant or mechanic. What Mr. Pile wants and hopes to accomplish with the help of the members of the bureau, is better citizenship, better schools, better roads and a better production of farm products. All of this can only be accomplished by organization and co-operation. The eyes of the whole world are on the farmers of this county and all over the country. Without them and their products there would be very little accomplished for the good of humanity.

There is no politics in this organization nor political alliances. No officer of this Bureau is allowed to hold a political office and remain a member of the body.

The Breckinridge County Farm Bureau has every promise of bringing about an untold amount of good to our farmers and citizens. And may we extend our congratulations to this organization upon its executive body. Mr. Pile, the president with Mr. Geo. N. Lyddan, vice president, and Mr. Joe Harth, secretary and treasurer, compose a fine body of men; men who are conscientious in the disposal of their duties, and who feel a keen interest in the welfare of their fellow citizens.

PROSPECTS FOR BETTER SCHOOLS.

Never before have the prospects for better schools in Kentucky been so encouraging as they are today. The General Assembly in its recent session enacted many laws aimed for the improvement of schools over the State, and the enforcement of these laws to the very letter will necessarily bring the desired aim.

One law, which is essential in this day of high prices, and which may be the means of inducing more young men and women to enter the profession, is that of providing a minimum salary for public school teachers at $75. But along with the raise in salary there are more rigid requirements of teachers, so that school teaching in this age, even in the rural districts, will not be altogether a "fat" job, as it were, and many incompetent ones will be barred.

One of the foremost qualifications for teachers is the law requiring that teachers' examinations be held in counties and papers sent to the State Department of Education, and requiring high school education and normal training.

It is an absolute fact that no teacher can inspire a pupil to seek a higher education unless the teacher has it. One cannot recommend the value of a thing they know nothing about.

In this issue we are publishing the school reform laws in Kentucky so that the patrons of schools in Breckinridge county may be informed of the educational laws of the State.

With road improvements in the county, there will be better opportunities for school improvements, and the proper development of religious and educational life must come with the development of our traveling facilities.

THE RIGHT SORT OF GARDEN

The United States Department of Agriculture states that more garden seeds have been sold this year than last which goes to prove that while the war is over the home gardeners have not lost all of their patriotism in producing all they can.

But as one writer said, "Two and three years ago many Americans who had never planted before did a bit of gardening to save their country. This year they are going to plant in order to save themselves and stop the whole in the family pocket-book."

Many have become fascinated with digging down into mother earth, scattering seeds and watching them grow while the majority prefer fresh vegetables from their own back yard rather than the corner grocery.

Since home gardens have become so popular why not have one that produces beauty as well as provender for the family. In traveling over the country one may see beautiful home gardens laid off by landscape gardeners, but they can never excel the beauty of the gardens our grandmothers had with their flower beds on each side of the garden walk with those magnificent old fashioned flowers; and sometimes at the end of the walk there would be the summer house covered with honey-suckle. Gardens like this require work and time, and an eye for beauty, but who wouldn't enjoy one?

Beautify the home and its surroundings. Make it a haven of rest for the eyes; a place where the soul may be fed upon nature's loveliness, and the body with the fruits of nature. Then the memories of the old home place will be to our children as happy and pleasant as the memories of the home many of us have left.

"Be Kind to Dumb Animals Week" is April 12 to 18th. The school teachers of Breckinridge county may get programs for observing these days to use in their schools by applying to the office of Our Dumb Animals Magazine, 180 Longest Avenue, Boston, Mass. The children will enjoy these programs.

The sale of army shoes at the Golden Rule Store has been the biggest attraction Cloverport has had in a long time in the sale of merchandise. This is one store where they tell you with the proper emphasis, that advertising pays.

A million Kentucky women will go to the polls next November and vote in the presidential election.

Something else added to woman's worries: How and for whom to vote in the presidential election.

Don't get too absurd in gardening and Spring cleaning and forget that we still want water-works.

It is getting close to the time to have a Clean-Up-Day in Cloverport.

May you have a happy Easter.

FARM AND STOCK

Mrs. S. J. Brashear, of Frymire, sold twenty hens last week weighing 12 1/2 lbs., @ 26 cents.

Mrs. Frank Mattingly, of The Castle, Cloverport, made a recent shipment to Nashville, Tenn., of 65 baby chicks of pure White Rock breed.

H. M. Jolly, of Lewisport, was in this city last Tuesday enroute to Detroit, Mich., where he went to seek a location. Mr. Jolly says he wants to retire from farming for about a year at the least.

County Clerk A. T. Beard reports the recording of 163 oil leases last week. All of them are in this district. Watch us go after oil and get it!

Farmers meeting at Hardinsburg, Saturday, April 10. Every farmer in the county should make it a point to attend this meeting. If you are not a member of the Farm Bureau get into it and do it quick.

The Hardinsburg Mill & Elevator Co., have made a wonderful improvement in the appearance of their mill. They have just finished covering the sides of their building with Galvanized Rock Face Metal. It not only helps the looks of the building but is a great protection in the case of fire. This is a live-up-to-date concern. They have a fine plant. They are taking care of it guarding it in every way they can, not only to protect themselves but their patrons.

J. C. Jones, of Louisville, was down at Glen Dean, Sunday to see his brother, Joe Jones, who has been confined to his bed for two months a sufferer from two ruptures, and doesn't seem to improve very much. Joe's many friends will be sorry to learn of his condition and wish him a speedy recovery.

S. M. Haynes, of Garfield, sold his fine saddle and harness mare for $260. Said he had a number of inquiries from his adv. in the News. Several from Illinois.

Joe C. Mattingly, Glen Dean, sold E. L. Robertson 80 stock hogs at 12 1/2 cents per pound.

Huse Alexander sold 10 hogsheads of Burley tobacco in Louisville, last week at an average of $28.50. Medium grade.

There is a lot of clearing going on among the farmers this spring. Spring plowing and oats sowing is also going on at a lively rate.

Rev. H. S. English, Ammons made a business trip to Owensboro, Saturday, buying repairs for farm machinery. He is preparing for a big crop.

Fred Dutschke, Holt shipped last week 2 carloads of cattle and one load of hogs. He is now in the market for 100 head of stock hogs.

Mr. J. T. Hoben, manager for Reeves & Bowmer, Hardinsburg went to Louisville, Monday to buy goods.

Oscar Butler, Dyer, lost his store house by fire Sunday night, March 28. His stock of goods and house hold goods valued at $4,500 were a total loss. He saved post-office supplies and cash. Insurance $3,000.

C. V. Robertson, W. T. Stout, Hardinsburg, and Glen Moorman, Glen Dean, returned from Louisville, Monday.

MAKING VERMONT PICCALILLI.

Daniel L. Cady in Burlington News.
A-half the relishes I know
Are palate disappointments.
That fail to "work a cure" the same
As medicines and ointments;
But one there is that makes the rest
A-look exceedingly silly.
And stands the truest table test—
Tomater piccalilli.
We always used the biggest bowl
To chop the green tomatoes;
We cut 'em finer than they did;
A-cross at neighbor Slater's
We'd chop 'til all our arms would ache.
There ain't no chance to dilly,
Or dally, once you start to make
A crock of piccalilli.
We salted 'em like sixty next
And set 'em off for dreening;

HOW THE RABBIT BECAME EMBLEM OF EASTER.

The Easter rabbit or hare comes from Germany where Easter is celebrated with almost as much enthusiasm as Christmas in this country. There the children are taught if they are good and mind their parents, and are truthful and kind to one another, a white hare will steal into the house on Easter Eve, when every body is asleep, and secrete any number of gayly-colored eggs in the corners of the room. A search in the morning soon reveals a nest filled with Easter eggs. The association of the hare with Easter springs from the latter's connection with the moon. Inasmuch as the date of Easter is dependent on the moon's phases, it is practically a lunar holiday. From ancient times the hare has been a symbol of the moon, many reasons for which have been given. The hare is a nocturnal animal and comes out at night to feed. Both hare and moon were in former times thought to have the power of changing their sex, the new moon being masculine and the waning moon feminine. Another reason for identifying the hare with the moon was the young are born with their eyes open unlike rabbits which are born blind. Another reason is that the name of the hare in Egyptian was "un" meaning open. Now, the moon was the open-eyed watcher of the night, and the hare, born with his eyes open, was fabled never to close them. The substitution of the rabbit for the hare in America is easily understood. The hare is not indigenous to our forests, and by many persons the hare and rabbit are supposed to be identical.—Selected.

Both cullenders got busy quick, If you collect my meaning;
By morning quarts of salty juice Had dript, which, willy-nilly,
Got emptied out—we had no use For brine in piccalilli.

And then we cut the smarty things, The peppers, just a-turning
And that there Whitehouse radish root

A-just about as burning;
And long before we had 'em chopped Our eyes got kinder f'ly,
But jest the same, we never stopped We wanted piccalilli.

A-next came in the cooking part, Which took the stove and kittle;
We het it up to boiling point, Or jest beyond a little;
And them we set it by to cool A-till 'twas middling chilly—
You've got to go right straight by rule Or lose your piccalilli.

Then back inside the bowl it went To get them fixings frey,
And sugar, cloves and mustard seed A-saved by Aunt Almry;
And then come on the tasting act, I tell you what, 'twas thrilly
The way the family lips a-smackt O'er perfect piccalilli.

The vinegar was last to add, Which made it pickle proper;
We always fetched the fullest cruse And nix I held the stopper;
And then the one that poured it in Would hand the cruse to Willie;
We each was handy as a pin A-making piccalilli.

Great stuff that forms 'twixt food and taste,
An appetizing isthmus;
It's jest as good as it can be Before or after Christmas;
How others feel, I may not know Perhaps you'll think it's silly,
But as for me, I'd want to go 't 'twasn't for piccalilli.

BOOST

Boost your city, boost your friend, Boost the lodge that you attend, Boost the street on which you're dwelling
Boost the goods that you are selling, Boost the people 'round about you,
They can't get along without you, But success will quicker find them,
If they know that you're behind them, Boost for every forward movement,
Boost for every new improvement, Boost the man for whom you labor,
Boost the stranger and the neighbor, Cease to be a chronic knocker,
Cease to be a progress blocker, If you make your city better
Boost it to the final letter.

THE WATER MILL.

In memory of C. A. Compton by R. M. Walker.

The evening shadows are growing long
Around my home among the hills,
The turtle dove has gone to rest—
In the distance you hear the whip-poor-will.

The spring still bubbles 'neath the hill,
Above the dear old water-mill;
It's works have all gone to decay,
But a few posts you see there still.
So oft I think of the happy days
Spent at the dear old mill
Fishing with a pin hook;
Until our sacks with minnows would fill.

But then those days we see no more,
The mill is a thing of the past
And many of the boys we loved so well,
Their graves are covered with green grass.

DEFINITION GIVEN BY DICTIONARY OF AURORA BOREALIS.

The Aurora Borealis, popularly known as Northern Lights, is defined by Webster's Dictionary as follows: A luminous meteoric phenomenon, visible only at night, and supposed to be of electrical origin. This species of light usually appears in streams, ascending toward the zenith from a dusky line or bank, a few degrees above the northern horizon; when reaching south beyond the zenith it forms what is called the corona, about a spot in the heavens toward which the dipping needle points.

Occasionally the Aurora appears as an arch of light across the Heavens from east to west. Sometimes it assumes a wavy appearance, and the streams of light are then called merry dancers. They assume a variety of colors, from a pale red to yellow to a deep red or blood color.—Boston Globe.

LALLEY LIGHT and POWER

Lallely Light is a complete unit—engine on generator—with 16-cell storage battery. It supplies ample electricity for lights, water pump, washing machines, sumpers, cream separators, fanning mill, iron, etc.

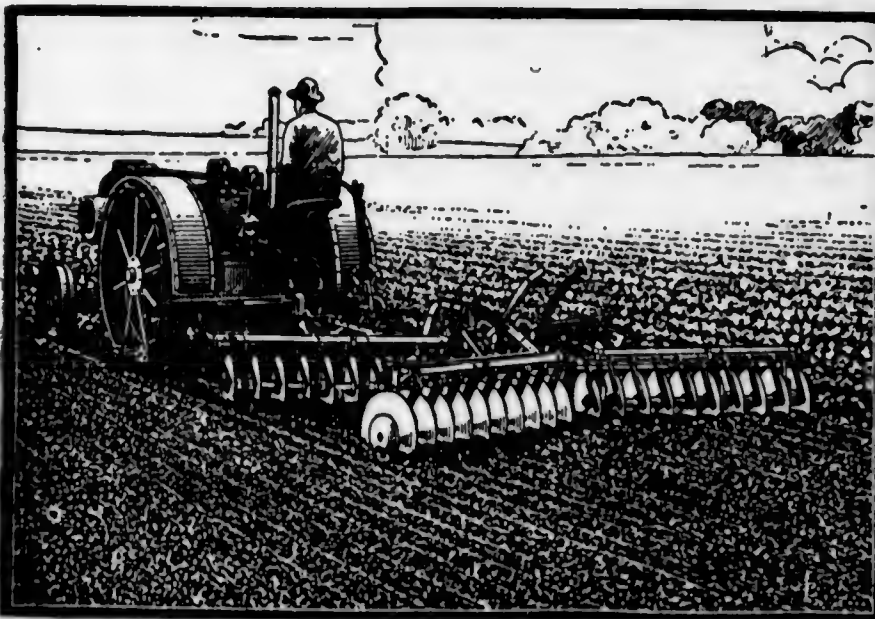

Lalley Light and Power Saves the Daylight for Field Work

Every available hour of daylight is needed for actual production on the farm. That is one reason why Lallely Light is considered such a valuable farm economy. Its brilliant, steady light lessens the drudge of the early morning and after-dark chores. Many farmers do their milking and feeding at night now that they have Lallely light, thereby saving many hours of daylight for field work. Lallely Light with its endless, sure, safe supply of electric light and power saves time and labor on the farm, all day, before sun-up and after sun-down. That is why so many thousands of farmers have found Lallely electric light and power a necessity. That is why all Lallely plant owners have found it a practical money making improvement and an invaluable home comfort and convenience. Let us show how Lallely Light and Power can do the same for you at a cost that will surprise you.

A Tractor Disc Harrow Built to Meet Exceptionally Severe Soil Conditions

You can hitch our John Deere Double-Action Heavy Tractor Disc Harrow to your tractor regardless of the make of tractor. The clevis on the tractor hitch is adjustable to get the correct line of draft on different height tractor draw-bars.

This Harrow is built heavy and strong throughout to make it do a good job of disking under most difficult conditions. It is practically all steel with double-bar gang frames, well braced and securely riveted. And the class of work it does will please you. The front section is out-throw; the rear, in-throw. The soil is left level and well pulverized. The rear section is connected with a "goose-neck" ahead of the front gangs. By using this style of connection, the rear section trails properly at all times. And this harrow penetrates unusually satisfactorily because of its weight, the low tractor hitch and the low coupling between the front and the rear gangs.

Come in and let us show you this time-saving, labor saving, thorough-working harrow.

ONLY WAY TO BEAT GAME

Taxes Must be Paid and It Can be Done With Interest on U. S. Securities.

A dispatch from Washington states that Government Taxes during 1921 will amount to approximately $550 for every family in the United States. A labor man in St. Louis has discovered a way to beat the game.

"We are going to pay the cost of the war through taxation," he said. "I will have to pay my share and the only way I can beat the game is to lend the Government as much money as I can and get back as interest what I pay out in taxes."

"Therefore, I am buying War Savings Securities, paying four per cent interest compounded quarterly, and advising every other man who works for a living to do the same. I know of no better place to put one's savings than in War Savings Stamps and Treasury Saving Certificates."

SYNOPSIS EDUCATIONAL LAWS ENACTED BY THE KY. LEGISLATURE 1920

Reorganization of Rural Schools.

Senator Antle Representative Trumbo To create a non-partisan County School Board of five members, elected from the county at large, with authority, to establish districts, appoint County Superintendents and teachers, fixing minimum school rates at 25 cents, and minimum salary for County Superintendents of $1200.00.

This is one of the most important school laws ever enacted in Kentucky and if faithfully administered will do much to revolutionize the rural schools of the State.

Teachers Salaries.

Representative Trumbo To establish minimum salary of $75.00 per month for public school teachers.

This is more than double the minimum salary in many of the counties. All cities have made provision for increasing salaries also.

School Survey.

Senator Morris To provide for an educational survey of the schools of the State, appropriating $10,000.00. This survey is to be made by non-resident experts, and is to include all educational institutions of the State supported wholly, or in part, by public funds.

Constitutional Amendments.

Representative Mason Senator Harlan To amend the Constitution so the State Superintendent may be appointed instead of elected, and if elected may succeed himself, no difference how efficient he may be.

Representative McLaughlin Senator Bright To amend the Constitution so that ten per centum of the school fund may be distributed otherwise than on per capita basis. Among counties and cities, this will enable the weaker counties to receive special assistance, provided they levy a special local tax. This will be used to stimulate effort and equalize opportunity.

Certification of Teachers. Senator Moss To provide that teachers' examination shall be conducted in counties and papers sent to State Department of Education, requiring high school education and normal training as qualification for teachers. This law simplifies the system of certification and raises the standard.

Compulsory School Attendance.

Senator Antle To provide for appointment of School Attendance Officer and make attendance at school compulsory up to age of sixteen, unless youth has finished eighth grade. Under certain conditions youths between fourteen and sixteen may go to work.

This is one of the best attendance laws in any State in the Union.

Representative Roth To require evidence as to age and physical fitness for youths fourteen to sixteen years old to receive permit to work.

Physical Education.

Senator Morris Representative Reynolds To provide for physical education as a part of a school course in all the schools of the State. This law provides that the State University and all State Normal Schools shall provide courses in Physical Education, and after July 1st, 1921, all graduates from teacher courses in those institutions shall have completed one or more courses in Physical Education.

Libraries.

Representative Myers To authorize establishment and maintenance by counties of free public libraries.

Representative Myers To authorize establishment and maintenance by cities of free public libraries.

Senator Antle To amend State Library Commission Law.

Miscellaneous.

Representative Barnes To require high school education of applicants for license as registered pharmacists.

Representative Geveden To provide for restricting school districts.

Representative Wash To allow State Superintendent of Education appropriation of $11,000 for clerk hire.

Senator Antle To authorize consolidated school districts to issue building bonds.

Senator Antle To provide for the inspection of vocational schools.

Senator Bright To provide for erection of independent consolidated high school districts.

Senator Bright To fix qualifications for graded school trustees.

Senator Brock To require half hour instruction weekly in the Public Schools in the humane treatment of animals.

Representative McLaughlin To provide for the teaching of Thrift in the Public Schools.

Senator Hall To prescribe method of levying and collecting tax in special charter school districts.

Representative Wash To provide for inspection of Public Schools.

Senator Carter To empower trustees of graded school districts to condemn land.

Representative Wash To prescribe method of appointing trustees of Kentucky Normal and Industrial Institute.

Senator Harlan To give free scholarships in the State University and State Normals to soldiers and sailors returned from the World War.

Representative Morgan Budget bill makes increased appropriation for the various educational institutions. Liberal appropriations were made for the State University, the State Normal Schools and Industrial Institute and other State Educational Institutions.

Representative Wash To provide for erection of independent consolidated high school districts.

Senator Bright To fix qualifications for graded school trustees.

Senator Brock To require half hour instruction weekly in the Public Schools in the humane treatment of animals.

CHANGES IN NORMAL COURSES PLANNED.

State Faculties Meet Here to Discuss New Standard for Teachers.

Louisville, March 25.—Proposed changes in the course of instruction in Kentucky's two normal schools, that at Bowling Green and the other at Richmond, were discussed at a meeting of the Executive Board of the two institutions at The Seelbach yesterday afternoon. The changes are necessary in order that teachers turned out of these normal schools may pass examinations that will be imposed within the next four years before they may receive certificates entitling them to teach school in Kentucky.

The standard of efficiency for teachers was fixed by the General Assembly at its recent session, and at the end of four years only high school graduates, or those equipped to pass a high school examination will be eligible to teach in the State.

The Executive Board is composed of George Colvin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the heads of the two normal schools and others.

A meeting of the Board of Regents of the Western Kentucky Normal School was held at The Seelbach last night. Building in progress at the school was discussed. A new dormitory that will accommodate 300 more students is in course of erection.

DON'T GO TOBACCO CRAZY.

Tobacco prices keep on reaching new heights and breaking old records. The farmer who raised a good crop of good tobacco last year certainly made money, whatever may have been the lot of the farmer who grew grain or fed live stock.

But because this is true, let us not lose our sense of proportion or forget the fundamentals of good farming. The demand for tobacco is likely to remain good for a year or two; but a large increase in the supply is to be looked for. Many farmers who have been growing tobacco are planning to increase their acreage, and the crop is being planted by many farmers who have not been growing it. There is danger here—a big crop might easily send the price down below the cost of production.

The farmer who has found tobacco a good money crop can safely plant it again this year—if he plants it as a money or surplus crop only. He is taking a dangerous risk if he plants so much tobacco that he cannot raise the wheat and corn, the hay and truck, the hogs and cattle he needs for his own use. The only safe farming is that which makes certain of the farmer's living first of all; and the farmer who expects to buy his living out of the proceeds of a tobacco crop is taking a gambler's chance. Tobacco in moderation is all right; but this is no time to go tobacco crazy.—Southern Agriculturist.

TIME DIFFERENT EGGS TAKE FOR INCUBATION.

The period of incubation varies with species of poultry. Hen eggs require 21 days; pheasant, 22 to 24 days; duck, 28; Muscovy duck, 33 to 35; turkey, 28; peafowl, 28; guinea, 26 to 28; ostrich, 42; goose, 30 to 34.

Conditions also affect incubation so that in some cases a hatch may run one or two days over, due to an accident during incubation or to a low temperature throughout that period, while, on the other hand, the period may end earlier. If through any accident the eggs are chilled or overheated it is advisable to continue the hatch, testing the eggs after a few days to determine the extent of the damage say. Department of Agriculture poultry specialists. Chickens have hatched from eggs left out of the incubator all night, as well as from eggs which have been subjected to a temperature of over 110 degree F. for a short time.

SEES A REAL REVIVAL IN RELIGION

Boston Minister Says American Religion Becoming More Socialized.

Boston, Mass.—"The Past and Future of American Christianity" was the subject of the sermon preached by Rev. Dr. Charles E. Park recently at the First Church in Boston. Dr. Park said in part:

"The fact that this day marks the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of our nation invites us to a consideration of our own religious history—what forces and tendencies have entered into our religious development during the intervening centuries—what our present religious condition is, and what our future religious history, here in this part of America, bids fair to be."

"There is today a very real revival of interest in religion and in the churches, which is caused by certain great so-called realizations which have swept over our intellectual landscape, partly as a result of the war, partly as a result of the social unrest, uneasiness and moral doubt that have followed the war."

"We in America have taken our religion as we have taken our population, largely from the Old World. And we find in the one the same cosmopolitan variety that we find in the other. We are still too young to have developed anything like a peculiarly American religious life, a peculiarly American type of religious expression and organization. The blending process is not yet finished."

"The melting pot is still bubbling and boiling merrily away. We hope sooner or later to draw forth from it a distinctive American character and a distinctive American civilization. In all probability, a distinctive American religion, if it ever comes at all, will be one of the last products to emerge from that melting pot."

"Our religion in the last two centuries has gradually become more and more socialized. Without relinquishing its interest in the individual it has enlarged its horizon so as to embrace within its interest the whole society."

"That development has been common to all denominations of American Christians, so that an act of social iniquity today makes not only the Methodist Christian bluish with shame, but it makes the Baptist and the Presbyterian and the Episcopalian Christian bluish just the same, and the Unitarian Christian more than any of them. That thought of a socialized religion is full of promise and hope for the future."

"For when a great variety of Christians wake up to the fact that they are all working for the same end, not only in Heaven, but on earth, not only to save private souls, but to make America here and now better, cleaner, nobler and more generous, a kingdom of God upon earth, there is bound to creep into the hearts of those various Christians a deep sense of their essential Christian oneness and brotherhood."

KY. FARMLANDS INCREASE IN VALUE

Increase Greatest in Tobacco Producing Sections. Wages for Farm Labor Increases.

Office of Field Agent 520, Custom House, Farm land values in Kentucky as a whole have increased approximately 11 per cent in the last year, according to the March agricultural report issued here by the Kentucky office of the United States Bureau of Crop Estimates. In the same time farm land values in the United States as a whole have increased approximately 20 per cent.

The increase in Kentucky has been greatest in the tobacco producing sections, amounting in many instances to wild speculation and inflation in the richest Blue Grass counties, and to very great increases in the richer sections of Western Kentucky.

Good plow lands and improved farms in both Kentucky and the entire United States show not only greater increase in value in dollars per acre than does poor plow land or unimproved farm land, but also show greater percentages of increase in value per acre.

Plow Land Increases.

Since March 1, 1919, good plow land in Kentucky, considering all parts of the State together, has increased from an average price of $80.00 to $95.00 at present; poor plow land from $37.00 to $42.00; average of all plow land from $61.00 to $70.00; average of all improved farm land from $81.00 to $85.00; and the average of all unimproved farm land from $61.00 to $62.00 an acre. The comparatively small increase shown in value of unimproved and poor lands gives by comparison a partial though inadequate idea of the extent to which the boom has been pushed in the richer sections.

During the same time average land values for the United States as a whole have increased as follows: good plow land increased from an average of $91.83 to $113.34; poor plow land from $51.26 to $60.76; average price of all plow land from $74.31 to $90.01; improved farm land from $81.89 to $99.24; and unimproved farm land from $62.08 to $74.41.

Wages for farm labor have increased greatly in the last year not only in Kentucky but throughout the United States, yet it is still difficult to get satisfactory or adequate labor on the farms.

Report of Ky. Farmers.

Kentucky farmers this month report they have on hand 36 per cent of last year's corn crop, or 29,700,000 bushels, compared to 37 per cent of the 1918 crop, or 33,670,000 bushels on hand March 1, 1919; 11 per cent of last year's wheat crop, or 1,323,000 bushels, compared to 10 per cent of the 1918 crop; 25 per cent of their last year's oats crop, or 2,475,000 bushels, compared to 27 per cent of the 1918 crop; 25 per cent of their 1919 barley crop, or 20,000 bushels, compared to 12 per cent of the larger 1918 crop, or 20,000 that was on farms March 1, 1919.

In the United States as a whole farmers still hold 1,092,005,000 bushels of the 1919 corn crop compared to 835,269,000 bushels of the 1918 crop they held March 1, 1919; of the 1919 wheat crop they still hold 165,539,000 bushels compared to 128,703,000 bushels of the 1918 crop they still held March 1, 1919; of the 1919 oats crop they still hold 422,815,000 bushels compared to 590,251,000 bushels of the 1918 crop they held March 1, 1919; and of the 1919 barley crop they still hold only 38,010,000 bushels compared to 81,746,000 bushels of the 1918 crop they held March 1, 1919.

"TOO MANY TEETH BEING PULLED" WARNS PRESIDENT OF CHICAGO D. S.

Chicago, March 23.—Several thousand dentists, in attendance on the convention of the State Dental Society heard these words in an address today from Dr. V. H. Fuqua, president of the Chicago Dental Society.

"There's a wave of tooth-pulling in this country. We must put a stop to it. It's on account of the X-ray. The X-ray is adjustable. You can read anything into it. People get an X-ray taken and rush down and have their teeth pulled. We are fast becoming a Nation of dental cripples. Too many teeth are being pulled."

"People place too much reliance upon the physician's diagnosis. The physician says, 'Go get your teeth pulled; your lumbago is caused by the toothache' and the patient rushes and the tooth is pulled."

Tobacco Warehouse Declares A 6 PER CENT DIVIDEND.

Elizabethtown, Ky.—The Farmers Tobacco Warehouse Co., at a meeting of the directors held Saturday, declared a dividend of six per cent of stockholders. The dividend will be paid to stockholders from the time their money was paid into the company's hands to January 1.

The company showed net profits for the season of $2,429, and it is expected that the dividend payment will not exceed $1,000, leaving a surplus of approximately $1,400.

The Elizabethtown warehouse is one of the few in the State to have paid a dividend upon its first season's earnings.

ENLIST CITIZENS IN LEGION WORK

The Campaign for Kentucky's American Legion Fund Begins March 29

Supporting not only in sentiment but in word and deed the accomplishments and purposes of the American Legion, prominent business and professional men of Kentucky have banded together as a Citizens' Committee, with A. T. Hert of Louisville as chairman, and have organized a Statewide campaign to solicit funds for the support of the Legion, beginning March 29 and ending April 3.

Money realized from subscriptions, which are to come from citizens not members of the Legion, will go jointly to furthering the plans of State Headquarters and to the betterment of each local post. The amount raised will be called Kentucky's American Legion Fund.

The State has been organized by Mr. Hert into eleven congressional districts, with a chairman appointed for each district. Each district is divided by counties and each county will have its Citizens' Organization Chairman.

The district chairmen serving with Mr. Hert as State Chairman are:

- J. C. Uterback, Paducah, Ky., First District.
- James Pendleton, Owensboro, Ky., Second District.
- J. L. Harmon, Bowling Green, Ky., Third District.
- Judge J. R. Layman, Elizabethtown, Ky., Fourth District.
- Frank Buereck, Louisville, Ky., Fifth District.
- John H. Howe, Carrollton, Ky., Sixth District.
- Henry T. Duncann, Lexington, Ky., Seventh District.
- George McRoberts, Danville, Ky., Eighth District.
- Robert H. Winn, Mt. Sterling, Ky., Ninth District.
- F. W. Stowers, Pikeville, Ky., Tenth District.
- Hugh Asher, Pineville, Ky., Eleventh District.

American Legion posts have been instructed to call upon the county chairmen and offer their assistance in the detail work, but all actual solicitation will be done by those not in the Legion, according to the plans of the Committee.

Every business house and individual will be afforded an opportunity "to assist in the work of the American Legion in its efforts to combat anti-Americanism, encourage better citizenship and promote fraternalism among former service men."

In a letter to the commanders of Legion posts in the State Urie Bell, State Commander of the Legion, said:

"All the members should feel deeply grateful to this Citizens' Committee for the work that they are undertaking in your behalf and in the behalf of the American Legion. You should personally and by committee tender such services as you are able to perform and you should hold yourselves in readiness at all times to respond promptly to any call for assistance and co-operation that they may issue."

In a statement on the campaign Mr. Hert said:

"It is essentially a campaign of citizens on behalf of the Legion—not a campaign of the Legion men themselves seeking aid. Their necessities are known and their budgets have been carefully scrutinized by a group of competent men who understand the needs and are willing, in co-operation with the citizenship of the State in general, to raise the money necessary to meet the Legion's requirements."

"The Legion today stands as a bulwark against radicalism of a revolutionary character, not only in Kentucky but throughout the nation. It is a work that is unceasing in view of the situation abroad and in this country."

"The Legion is growing so rapidly that it is unable to provide for the growth of the organization itself and take care of work it is doing and has planned to do."

"The Citizens' Committee expects every loyal Kentuckian and every man who is a per cent American to do his duty in this campaign."

Many People Report Big Gains In Weight

THOUSANDS OF THIN, FRAIL PEOPLE RESTORED TO HEALTH BY TANLAC

MANY REMARKABLE EXPERIENCES TOLD

People in all Ranks of Life Tell What Celebrated Medicine Has Done for Them.

ONE of the most noteworthy features in connection with Tanlac and the one that stands out more prominently than any other, perhaps, is the very large number of well-known men and women from all parts of the country who have recently reported astonishing and rapid increases in weight as a result of its use.

When so many well-known people of unquestioned integrity make statement after statement, each corroborating the other, the truth of such statements can no longer be doubted. Thousands have testified that this famous medicine has completely restored them to health and strength, after every other medicine and the most skilled medical treatment have failed.

One of the most remarkable cases on record is that of Mrs. Viola Ives, of 815 Cross street, Little Rock, Ark., whose statement appears below:

"In May of 1913," said Mrs. Ives, "I suffered a complete breakdown of my nerves and my entire system gave way. About six weeks afterwards I was carried to the hospital. I became perfectly helpless—couldn't move any part of my body and just lay there in bed for five months, not knowing anything or anybody. I was brought home in October, 1913, and tried all kinds of medicine and everything I was told about."

"I read about so many people getting relief by taking Tanlac and my husband got me a bottle. After taking three bottles I began to feel better. I have taken several bottles of Tanlac now and I can walk anywhere and sleep like a child. When I took my first dose of Tanlac I weighed only one hundred and twenty-two pounds. I now weigh one hundred and sixty-two—an actual gain of forty pounds since I started on Tanlac."

Texas Man Testifies.

Another remarkable case was that of John M. Crahtree, a general merchant of Five Mile Station A., Dallas, Texas:

"I have actually gained thirty-four pounds on three bottles of Tanlac and I now know what it is to enjoy good health after suffering for twenty years," said Mr. Crahtree.

"I suffered with catarrh of the stomach and indigestion for twenty years and for eighteen months, before I started taking Tanlac, I had to live almost entirely on cereals. I spent nearly all of one whole year in bed and was unable to do anything at all and I fell off in weight to 118 pounds."

"After using my third bottle of Tanlac I found I had increased in weight from 118 pounds to 152 pounds, making an actual gain of thirty-four pounds—all my troubles were gone and I was feeling like another man."

Captain Jeff D. Riggs, popular P. & M. V. engineer, running between Vicksburg and New Orleans and residing at 2020 Pearl Street, Vicksburg, in speaking of his experience with Tanlac said: "Yes, sir, it's an actual fact. I have gained twenty-five pounds on Tanlac."

"When I began taking the medicine," continued Captain Riggs, "I was simply a nervous and physical wreck and had dropped down in weight from one hundred and forty to one hundred and ten pounds."

"I have just finished my second bottle of Tanlac, have gained twenty-

WAS TWICE EXAMINED AND TOLD OPERATION WOULD BE HER ONLY HOPE.

"I HAVE just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and have gained twenty-seven pounds," was the truly remarkable statement made by Mrs. Charles Peden, residing at 350 Mill Street, Huntsville, Ala.

"When I commenced taking the medicine," she continued, "I only weighed ninety-eight (98) pounds; now I weigh 125 pounds, and never felt better in my life. For years I have suffered with a bad form of stomach trouble, constipation and pains in my side and back. At times the pains took the form of torture, and I was twice examined and each time I was told that I had appendicitis and that an operation would be my only hope."

"I had made all preparations for the operation and called in my sister to tell her good-by, as I did not know whether I would live to see her again or not. My sister begged and pleaded with me not to allow them to cut me and told me to wait and try a good tonic for awhile. The next day, as I returned from the consultation room, I thought of what she said, and as I had heard so much about Tanlac, I decided to try it and get a bottle."

"I never returned for the operation, but just kept taking the Tanlac. Right from the start I began to feel better. The medicine seemed to take hold right at once."

"I was so happy over the wonderful improvement in my condition that I sent for my neighbors to tell them how much better I felt. I sent and got another bottle of Tanlac, and have just finished taking my third bottle and feel as if I have been made all over again into a new woman."

ey-five pounds and I feel like a new man."

Old-Time Engineer Talks.

Engineer Chas. J. Weeks, who runs the Seaboard Air Line fast train "Fox" between Jacksonville and Tampa, hears the distinction of being the second oldest engineer in point of service with this road, having been with the company for thirty-five years.

"I have gained twenty pounds on seven bottles of Tanlac and feel as well and happy as I did when a boy," said Mr. Weeks.

"For twenty years I suffered with nervous indigestion of the worst sort," he continued, "and at times during the past fifteen years I didn't think I would last much longer. To tell you the truth, I finally reached the point where I didn't much care whether I lived or died."

Thousands of other people all over the country have reported the same astonishing gains in weight after taking Tanlac. Among these are: Mrs. E. O. Wilson, of 197 Bass St., Atlanta, Ga., who gained 25 pounds; Edward Reno, 1721 Broadway, Kansas City, Mo., who gained 25 pounds; Mrs. W. C. Cochran, of Julietta, Idaho, who gained 22 pounds; Mrs. Doll Davis, of 108 Samuel Ave., Peoria, Ill., who gained 30 pounds; Chas. E. Shaffer, 508 W. Charleston, St. Portland, Ore., who gained 24 pounds; Mrs. Amelia Mann, R. F. D. No. 2, Ogden, Utah, who gained 25 pounds; W. S. Hukill, 7308 Park Ave., Tacoma, Wash., who gained 20 pounds; Mrs. B. W. Smith, 3113 Burdett St., Omaha, Neb., who gained 35 pounds; Fred W. Saunders, 710 Market St., San Francisco, Cal., who gained 24 pounds and many other too numerous to mention.

IT'S A LONG WAY TO SOUTH WALES BUT THE RED CROSS IS THERE

BEATRICE MANLEY, seven years old and "small to her age," has arrived at her new home in Wales, where she will live with her grandparents. Beatrice has been a protégé of the Red Cross for several months while arrangements were pending for her journey to the country overseas.

When the influenza epidemic raged so strongly a year ago Beatrice's father and mother died at their home in Gravelly, Kentucky. The grandparents in South Wales wrote to the British Consul in this country asking him to plan for Beatrice's trip to Wales, where she would live with them.

The British Consul enlisted the services of the American Red Cross. After the death of her parents, Beatrice was taken by a kindly family near her home. The people offered to care for her as their own, but the prior claim of the grandparents was readily accepted when the Red Cross told them of the letter from Wales. Then while the Red Cross Home Service Sections in that part of Kentucky were busy settling up Beatrice's "estate" of $45 and securing for sale, furniture that had graced the little Manley home and which had been taken by neighbors who thought they deserved it for care given the Manleys, Beatrice awaited further word of her journey to Wales.

Several matters had to be straightened out first and the Red Cross was commissioned to find for the small traveler a suitable chaperone. Weeks passed until one was secured and the child became a great favorite with the passengers aboard ship. A representative of London Chapter of the American Red Cross, which is under jurisdiction of the Fourteenth Division, met Beatrice when she arrived in Plymouth, where the grandparents awaited her. The Fourteenth Division has arranged for a visitor from the Cardiff, Wales, Chapter to visit the home frequently and keep in touch with the family.

The London Chapter writes: "Mr. and Mrs. Manley are delighted to have Beatrice with them and are very grateful to the Red Cross for care given the child. They had not been away from their village before and felt but for the Red Cross they would have had great difficulty in finding the child at the port."

WOMAN EARNED HER LIBERTY

Unlooked-For Suffering Endured by Stowaway Who Was Making Her Way to Freedom.

Gone was the Bosphorus and in its place we saw the leaden waters of the Black sea. From the porthole of Josef's cabin we could distinguish many miles west of us the coast line of the country in which White had spent three years, according to Capt. Ann Bott's "Stowaways, Inc." In Asia, Fodor soon left us, for he had to bring other stowaways to the light of day. From every concealed cranny of the vessel men and women, almost as tight-hearted as ourselves at deliverance from the Turks, were coming into the open.

One of the stowaways, a passportless woman whom the aged captain was taking with him to Odessa, did not rejoice for some time. As hiding place for her the old man had chosen a deep locker in his chartroom on the bridge. There she had remained for the last two days. Now, Rosa, the kitchen wench, knew nothing of the captain's ally. That morning, not wishing to send her own particular stowaway—a Turkish deserter with coal-blackened face, mottled beard and decidedly odorous clothes—back to the lunkers, where he had spent the previous day, she thought of the locker as a temporary home. Dumping him inside the locker, she fastened the lid and ran back to the kitchen. The Turkish deserter landed with some violence on the captain's body and both received a bad fright as they clutched at each other in the darkness. Yet the lid could not be removed from the inside and the woman's screams were unheard outside the little room. The air in the unventilated locker grew more and more smothering. Finally the woman fainted. The Turk, tired after a long spell of cramped wakefulness in the lunkers and the kitchen, composed himself philosophically and went to sleep.

LAST FRAGMENTS OF EMPIRE

Romance in Disappearance of Red Dots From the Map of Western Canada.

A map of western Canada kept in the offices of the Hudson Bay company in Winnipeg is sprinkled with tiny red dots. Two centuries and a half of romance and history focus in these little red dots.

When the Hudson Bay company in 1870 surrendered to Canada the vast territory granted to it by Charles II of England, it retained one-twentieth of all the land in the "fertile belt" of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta between the North Saskatchewan river and the international boundary.

This one-twentieth was distributed throughout every township and each of these red dots on the map represents an area of from 160 to 640 acres.

These lands are today just as they were when the company's first forts were erected on Hudson bay. They are just as they were when the buffalo pastured upon them and Indians and trappers snared or shot fur-bearing animals in this domain half a century ago.

Though now surrounded by farms, they have never been touched by a plow. They are still islands of primeval soil in the midst of rich farming districts.

The little red dots are disappearing one by one from the map. Each one that disappears means that the land it represents has become a settler's farm. All the dots represent 3,000,000 acres.

The company is rapidly disposing of all its remaining land to settlers. When the last dot disappears from the map, the last fragment of Hudson Bay company's old empire will have disappeared from the North American continent.

STILL WAITS FOR RESCUE

Unromantic Ohio Sheriff Fells Bright Scheme of Fair Maiden.

"When the clock in the steeple strikes 1, bring a letter, a saw and a file, come for me." This appeal, written on daintily scented pink note paper, fluttered from a window of the woman's section of the county jail at Tiffin, Ohio.

Three youths passing rescued it from a snowdrift.

"I'll pay you well, if you'll only get me out of here," the writer promised. It was from a girl who is held for alleged forgery. The three youths were debating whether to take the risk of a rescue when Sheriff Charles J. Mutchler pounced on them, materially aiding them in coming to a decision. The "clock in the steeple" struck, but there were no signs of rescuers.

Strong Pica.

The local scout executive had visited the school for the purpose of organizing a troop. He talked to the boys for a time and then taught them several yells, some for their school and some for the principal, all of which made a decided hit with them. A few days later they asked their teacher to invite him back, but she refused, pleading that their time was needed for their regular school work. Another few days and their request was repeated, only to meet with the same refusal and the same excuse.

It was almost a week before the subject was again mentioned, and then the genius of the class did it.

"Say, Miss W—," he began, "don't you feel like you would like to be yelled for again?"

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my beloved husband John Bishop, who departed this life April 1, 1919. Age 33 years.

One sad and lonely year has flown And we are older, sadder grown, The rolling stream of time rolls on But still the vacant chair.

Like the petals of a rose That drop and fade away, So was my dear husband's life Just fading day by day.

And when at last the end came, While we stood by in tears To think of all the loneliness, Through all the coming years.

God called him home, it was His will But in my heart he lingers still For all of us he did his best. May God grant him eternal rest.

But some day I hope to meet him When my days are o'er, On that beautiful isle of somewhere Where sorrow we'll know no more. Sad wife, Joana Bishop.

MEMORIAL

In memory of my dear daughter, Gracie Mitchell, Moolleyville, Ky., who died Feb. 10th 1919.

One long year has passed away Since that sad and mournful day, When God alone knew best and Called dear Daughter home to rest.

A precious one from us has gone, A voice we loved is stilled; A place is vacant in our home, Which never can be filled.

We miss you dear daughter, We miss you and we are grieving Sad and long we often weep; In the morning and in the evening, When the world is all asleep.

In the lonely grave yard sleeping, Where the flowers bloom and wave; Lies the one we loved so dearly, In the lone and silent grave.

Dear Daughter how we miss you Since from earth you passed away Sad our hearts but sweet the memory As we think of you today.

The sweetest of thoughts to know And while praying we onward go, That some day we part no more We will clasp hands on the other shore.

Twelve long months have passed Since you were taken away, You are gone Gracie, but not forgotten; Nor never shall you be for— As long as memory lasts, I will always think of thee.

—Mrs. J. R. Mitchell.

SERVANT PROBLEM

"Your new cook didn't stay long," said Mr. Smith.

"No," said Mr. Twobble. "She objected to living in a servant's house on the back of our lot."

"Dear me! Couldn't you arrange that?"

"It was quite impossible. The servant's house is too small to accommodate my family."—Boston Globe.

ODD ITEMS FROM EVERYWHERE.

The first day of Spring on the Fitchburg and Leominster street railway hundreds of passengers, bundled in heavy overcoats furs and earlaps, rode in open cars, running through six inches of fresh snow.

Horace L. Upham, a retired business man, who lives in Fiskdale, was so tickled when he saw the first trolley car moving up Main St., after a 38-day lapse, that he hoisted the Stars and Stripes to the top of his flagpole, while neighbors stood by and cheered.

Capt. T. C. Cole, master of the fourmasted schooner, Jere G. Shaw, piled up on the shoal off Sandy Point, L. I., came ashore in the breeches buoy on business, and having attended to it went back by the same route to help his crew save the vessel.

Scotland Yard claims to have made 120,000 identifications by finger-prints without a single mistake.

Albert Levington, colored, of Indianapolis, brought a bicycle at a secondhand store, and found after he had ridden it home that it was the same wheel that was stolen from him last November.

February 5, G. Edwin Richmond went around the Square in Chepachet, R. I., peddling milk from a two-horse sled. Forty days afterward he was able to make the same trip in a pung. In the mean time, no vehicle of any kind had gone over the road.

Mrs. A. C. Williams of South Albany, Vt., has a sweet scented geranium which is five feet high.

A German arrested for smuggling in 1918 by the Swiss police, was released on 3,000 francs bail for which at the rate of exchange then he paid 7,500 marks. Recently his case was decided, and he was fined 3,300 francs. Then he got back the rest of his bail deposit, 1,700 francs, which he changed at a bank for 24,000 marks, thus making a clear profit on the transaction of 16,500 marks.

NEVER EVEN DISTURBS THEM.

Bishop Gorman said at a dinner in Boise:

"The trouble about poor church attendance isn't only that there are a great many dull preachers—it is also that these men are content to be dull. It is as if they thought preaching was inevitably a dull business."

"They are like the sick man, who consulted the physician."

"Do your talk in your sleep?" the physician asked him.

"The sick man smiled complacently. "No doctor," he said "I talk in other people's sleep. I'm a clergyman."

BE KIND TO ANIMALS WEEK, APRIL 12-16

We are glad to be able to announce so early in the year the dates of the national observance of Be Kind To Animals Week and Humane Sunday, the former having been set for the week of April 12, 1920, ending with Humane Sunday on April 18. This will be the sixth annual celebration of these important events, and successful as have been the observances of former years, it is expected that that of 1920 will surpass them all. Societies can have no excuse this season for not making their plans in good time, and with the world at peace and humane work generally be a grand effort to bring the gospel of kindness to every living creature home to every inhabitant of the country during the week of April 12, 1920.

Suggestive literature is being prepared, and helps for the celebration of the Week in schools and elsewhere, and for ministers and others who will participate in special services on Humane Sunday, may be obtained both from the American Humane Association, 287 State Street, Albany, N. Y., and the office of Our Dumb Animals, 180 Longwood Avenue, Boston, Mass. Societies and individuals should begin now to prepare plans for a great campaign during the coming Be Kind To Animals Week.
